Just Another Season

Ecclesiastes 3:1 To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven:

We live in a beautiful part of the country that experience all four seasons—Spring, Summer, Fall, and Winter. Each season changes the appearance of our landscape and the temperatures we experience. We enter each season with the understanding that it will be around for a short time and then a change will come and we will move onto the next season

With each season, we plan our activities, our vacations, and our travels. With each season, we even plan our Church Services due to extreme weather conditions. As you can see, seasons affect almost everything we do or don't do.

Seasons that we experience spiritually can be viewed in a parable-type way. We have seasons of great joy, peace, and growth, and we also have seasons of sadness, unrest, and hindrances. It happens to us all, and will continue to happen to us all until the Lord comes back.

Just as with each season in the natural, we prepare, make plans, and even change plans, and in our seasons spiritually, we must do the same. We must prepare for whatever season we are facing. For instance, if you are going through a season of sadness and loss, you need to prepare yourself by surrounding yourself with encouraging people, sympathetic people, and caring people. You need to be at church where the Word can be sent to heal you. You need to pray and seek the Lord diligently until that season passes.

Remember, that season will pass.

We also all enjoy seasons of great joy, happiness, contentment and fulfillment. Even this season needs some preparation. Because remember, this season will pass also. So how do we prepare for this season? We can encourage others, pray with others, care for others, and be at church where the Word can increase your faith for the next season that you will face.

We all face seasons, some we like, some we don't. But whether we are in a season that we like or don't like, we must prepare for the next season

Psalms 107:20-21 He sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions. 21 Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!

Be encouraged, it's just another season!
