Pentecost Sunday

Acts 2:1-4 And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place. 2 And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. 3 And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them. 4 And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

Today is Pentecost Sunday. Why is it celebrated? Why is it special? Why isn't it celebrated like Christmas and Easter? We hope to answer these questions in the space we have today.

Pentecost in Biblical times was a celebration in observance of the Ten Commandments or Law that was given to Moses on Mount Sinai and celebrated 50 days after the Exodus or Passover.

Christians celebrate Pentecost as the day the Holy Ghost was poured out upon 120 in the Upper Room and commonly referred to as the birth of the New Testament Church. Pentecost Sunday is celebrated 50 days after Easter, as we celebrate the resurrection of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

Pentecost Sunday celebrates the fulfillment of Joel 2:28; Matthew 3:11; Luke 24:49; John 14:16-20, 15:26, 16:5-15; and Acts 1:5.

Since this event marks one of Christianity's most important doctrines of being born of the water and the spirit (John 3:5), why is it not celebrated with the same monumental announcements as Christmas or

Easter? Well, to get a simple answer to such a complex question, we can conclude:

1. Almost all Christians celebrate and believe in the birth of Jesus (Christmas) and the resurrection of Jesus (Easter), but not all Christians believe in receiving the Holy Ghost, evidenced by speaking in other tongues.
2. Christmas and Easter have become secularly commercialized to represent Santa Clause and the Easter Bunny, which has hyped these into globally recognized days of celebration.

Maybe we can present a challenge to the Church—Let's celebrate Pentecost Sunday in our homes, in our communities, and in our places of worship, and help all Christians to come to the knowledge of this day and experience this promise for "...the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call" (Acts 2:39).
