Have a blessed day!

Those who are American born, have been born free. We didn't have to pay a sum of money for our freedom; we were simply born in a free country. Even though we were born free in America, America's freedom did not come free. It cost the lives and sacrifice of others, which must not be forgotten.

November 11th we remember all that have given their lives in protecting the freedoms that we all enjoy. This day is a day of remembrance of loved ones as well as those we have never met, who because of their sacrifice and commitment to the call to serve our country, allows us to enjoy the freedom of religion, education, democracy, and as penned by our fore-fathers in the Constitution of the United States: "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed",

To protect these rights, all have given some, but some have given all. And because we live in the greatest country in the world, we have a greater responsibility, a greater precedent for others to follow, and a greater necessity to remain a world leader.

Today, we want to take this time to pray and give thanks for those in the past, as well as for those in the present. We must not fail our troops who guard our nation and fight on foreign soil, by forgetting that every day they wake up, away from families and friends, and give their best for us.

Take time to shake a veteran's hand. Tell them you appreciate their service to our country. Tell them you are praying for them. If you see an active serviceman or servicewoman, shake their hand and let them know that you appreciate what they do to keep this country free.

The freedoms of this country are being tried and tested, but with the blessings of the Lord, and brave men and women of our military, it will continue to stand one nation under God.

Thank You For Your Service!

A Salute To Veterans

Acts 22:27-28 Then the chief captain came, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? He said, Yea. 28 And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this freedom. And Paul said, But I was free born.
