Modeling God's Word

I John 4:12 "No man hath seen God at any time, If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and His love is perfected in us."

Since no man has seen God at any time, there are still many proofs that God exists. One proof is that He dwells in us! Not just around us, but in us! Astounding, isn't it? Another proof is that His love shines through us! Again, astounding, isn't it? While others may feel that they must see some tangible appearance of God in our day as a feature in a rock, an outline in a cloud, or even a silhouette in a potato chip, the simplistic reality is, all we must do to know that God exists is to love one another. I John 3:14 says "We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not his brother abideth in death."

We live in a world that is "model" mesmerized. Everything from reality TV to beauty pageants, society is bombarded with a projection of what someone conveys as beautiful and acceptable. People spend millions of dollars a year on modeling their ideas and concepts.

With this in mind, we can see how modeling has entered even into the church world. No, I'm not talking about clothing and style (this time), but rather how many model their idea of Christianity. They walk down the runways of society modeling their concept of religion.

I have a radical concept, what if, instead of wanting to model what the world's concept of religion, we modeled God's concept of religion? What if we portrayed in life what we read in His Word? What if we expressed what Jesus confessed? What if instead of fleshly lusts, we modeled godliness? Think about it, we were not called to be show pieces of worldliness, but we were called to be models of the Word!

Many words can be substituted for the word model, such as, representation, reproduction, and replicate, to give us a clearer understanding. With this in mind, we can see how modeling God's Word is something all of us are called to do. We must reach out to our world with the truth of a changed life. We must let others see how the love of God now abides within us. All eyes are on the models as they walk the runway, and all eyes are on the Church as we walk the walk!

Model God's Word.
